ther villages is going on and likely to go on for sometime under the supervision of security forces.

The Plan of grouping supervised by the security forces is not known to us. The Council is not in a position to know the actual population of one constituency or another and therefore delimitation of constituencies would not be possible to get a reasonable fairness.

There are, known to us, only very few administrative and security posts in the fur flung villages. We claim to have knowledge of only the more important centres. We do not also know how many more security posts will be established and where, this presumably being military secret. Election of such importance requires fair distribution of polling centres and yet security forces do not come under our (Council's) competence to requisition and so also not be possible to sent out enumerators etc. to revised the electoral rolls. In the whole, I would say that there can be no possibility for fair delimitation of constituencies, no possibility of establishing polling centres and so possibility for revision of electoral rolls etc.

The Council therefore decline to take the responsibility at present of preparing the necessary preliminaries and the delimitation of constituencies etc. However If you would wish to discuss with me about these things and other matters, I am quite prepared to meet you at the time and place you may suggest."
